a longing for

something better
something new

a hope for

dreams fulfilled
desires realized

a thirst for

knowledge;
experience

an ambition to learn

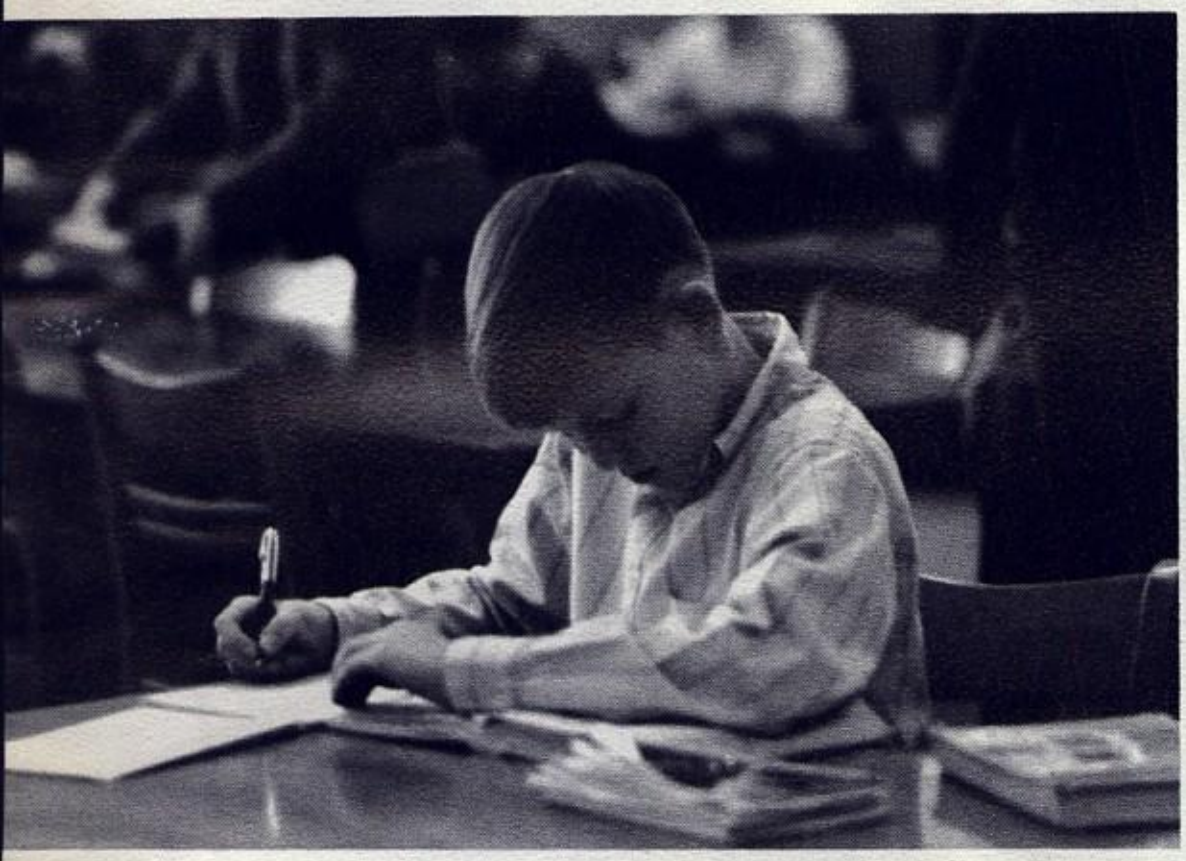
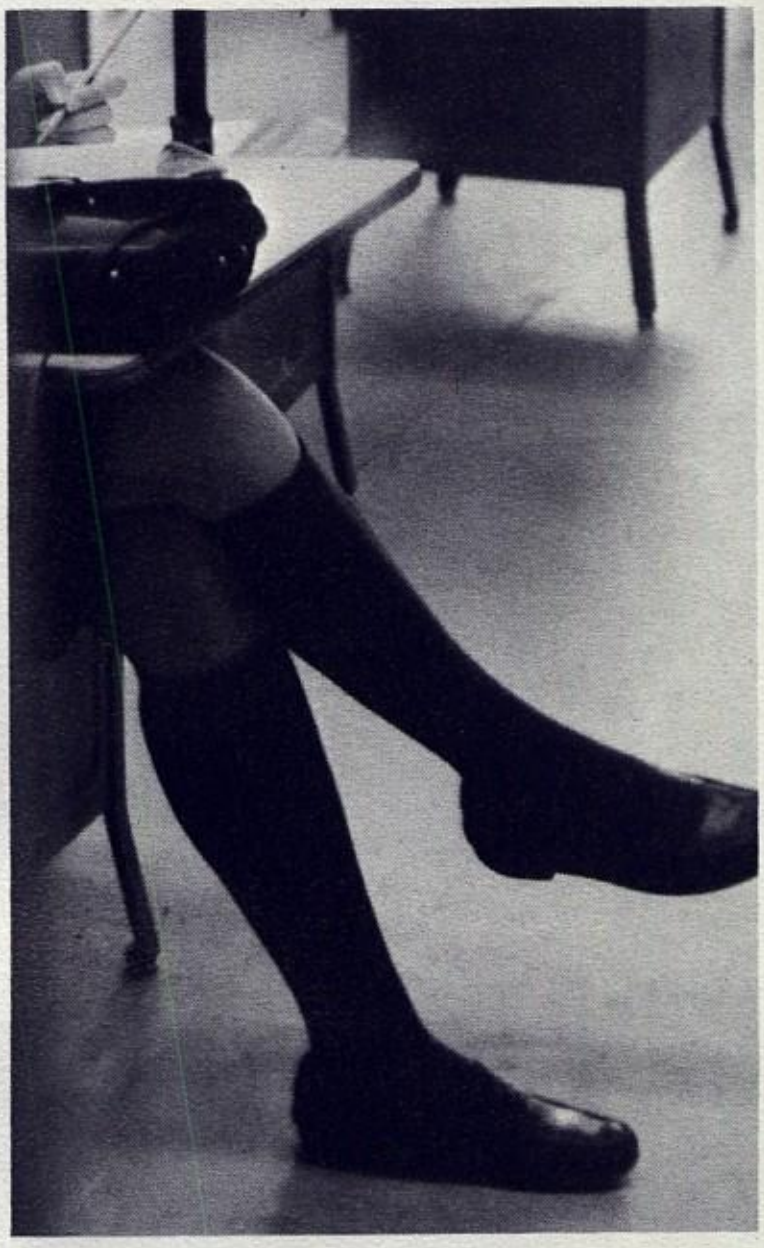
and
succeed

alive; afire; full of life and hope.

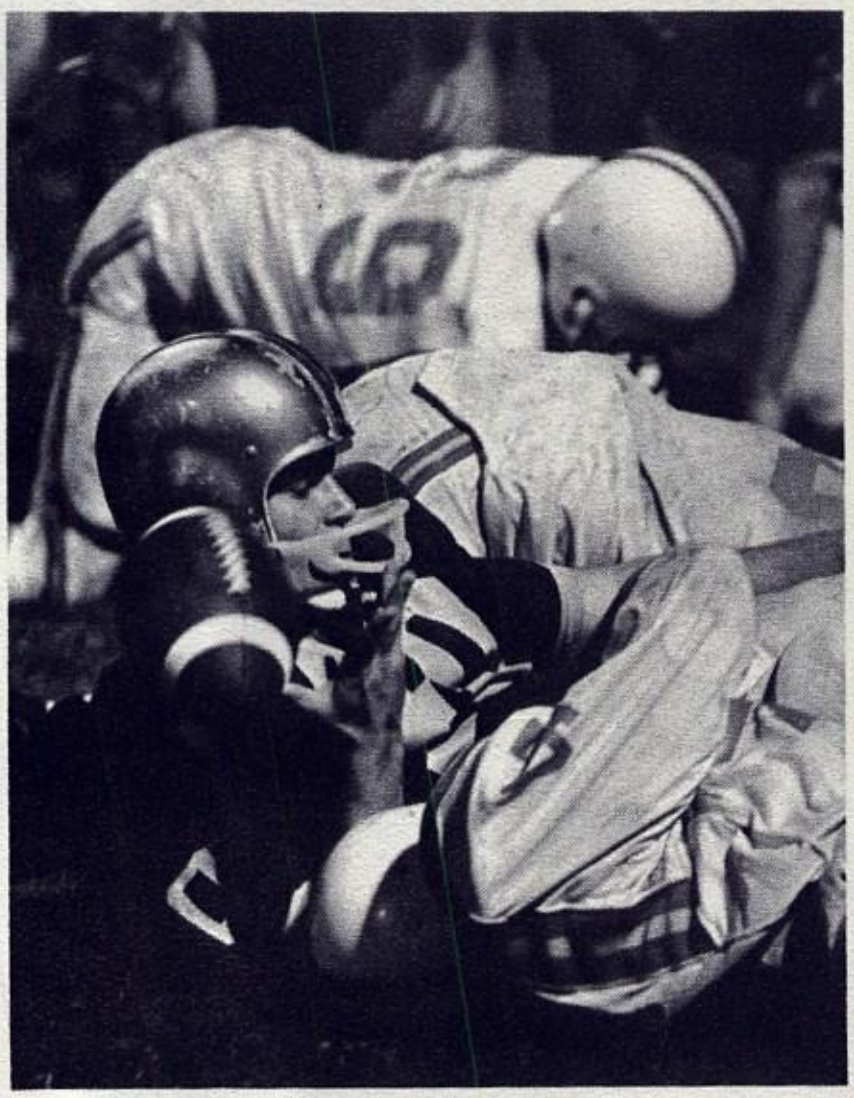
we have

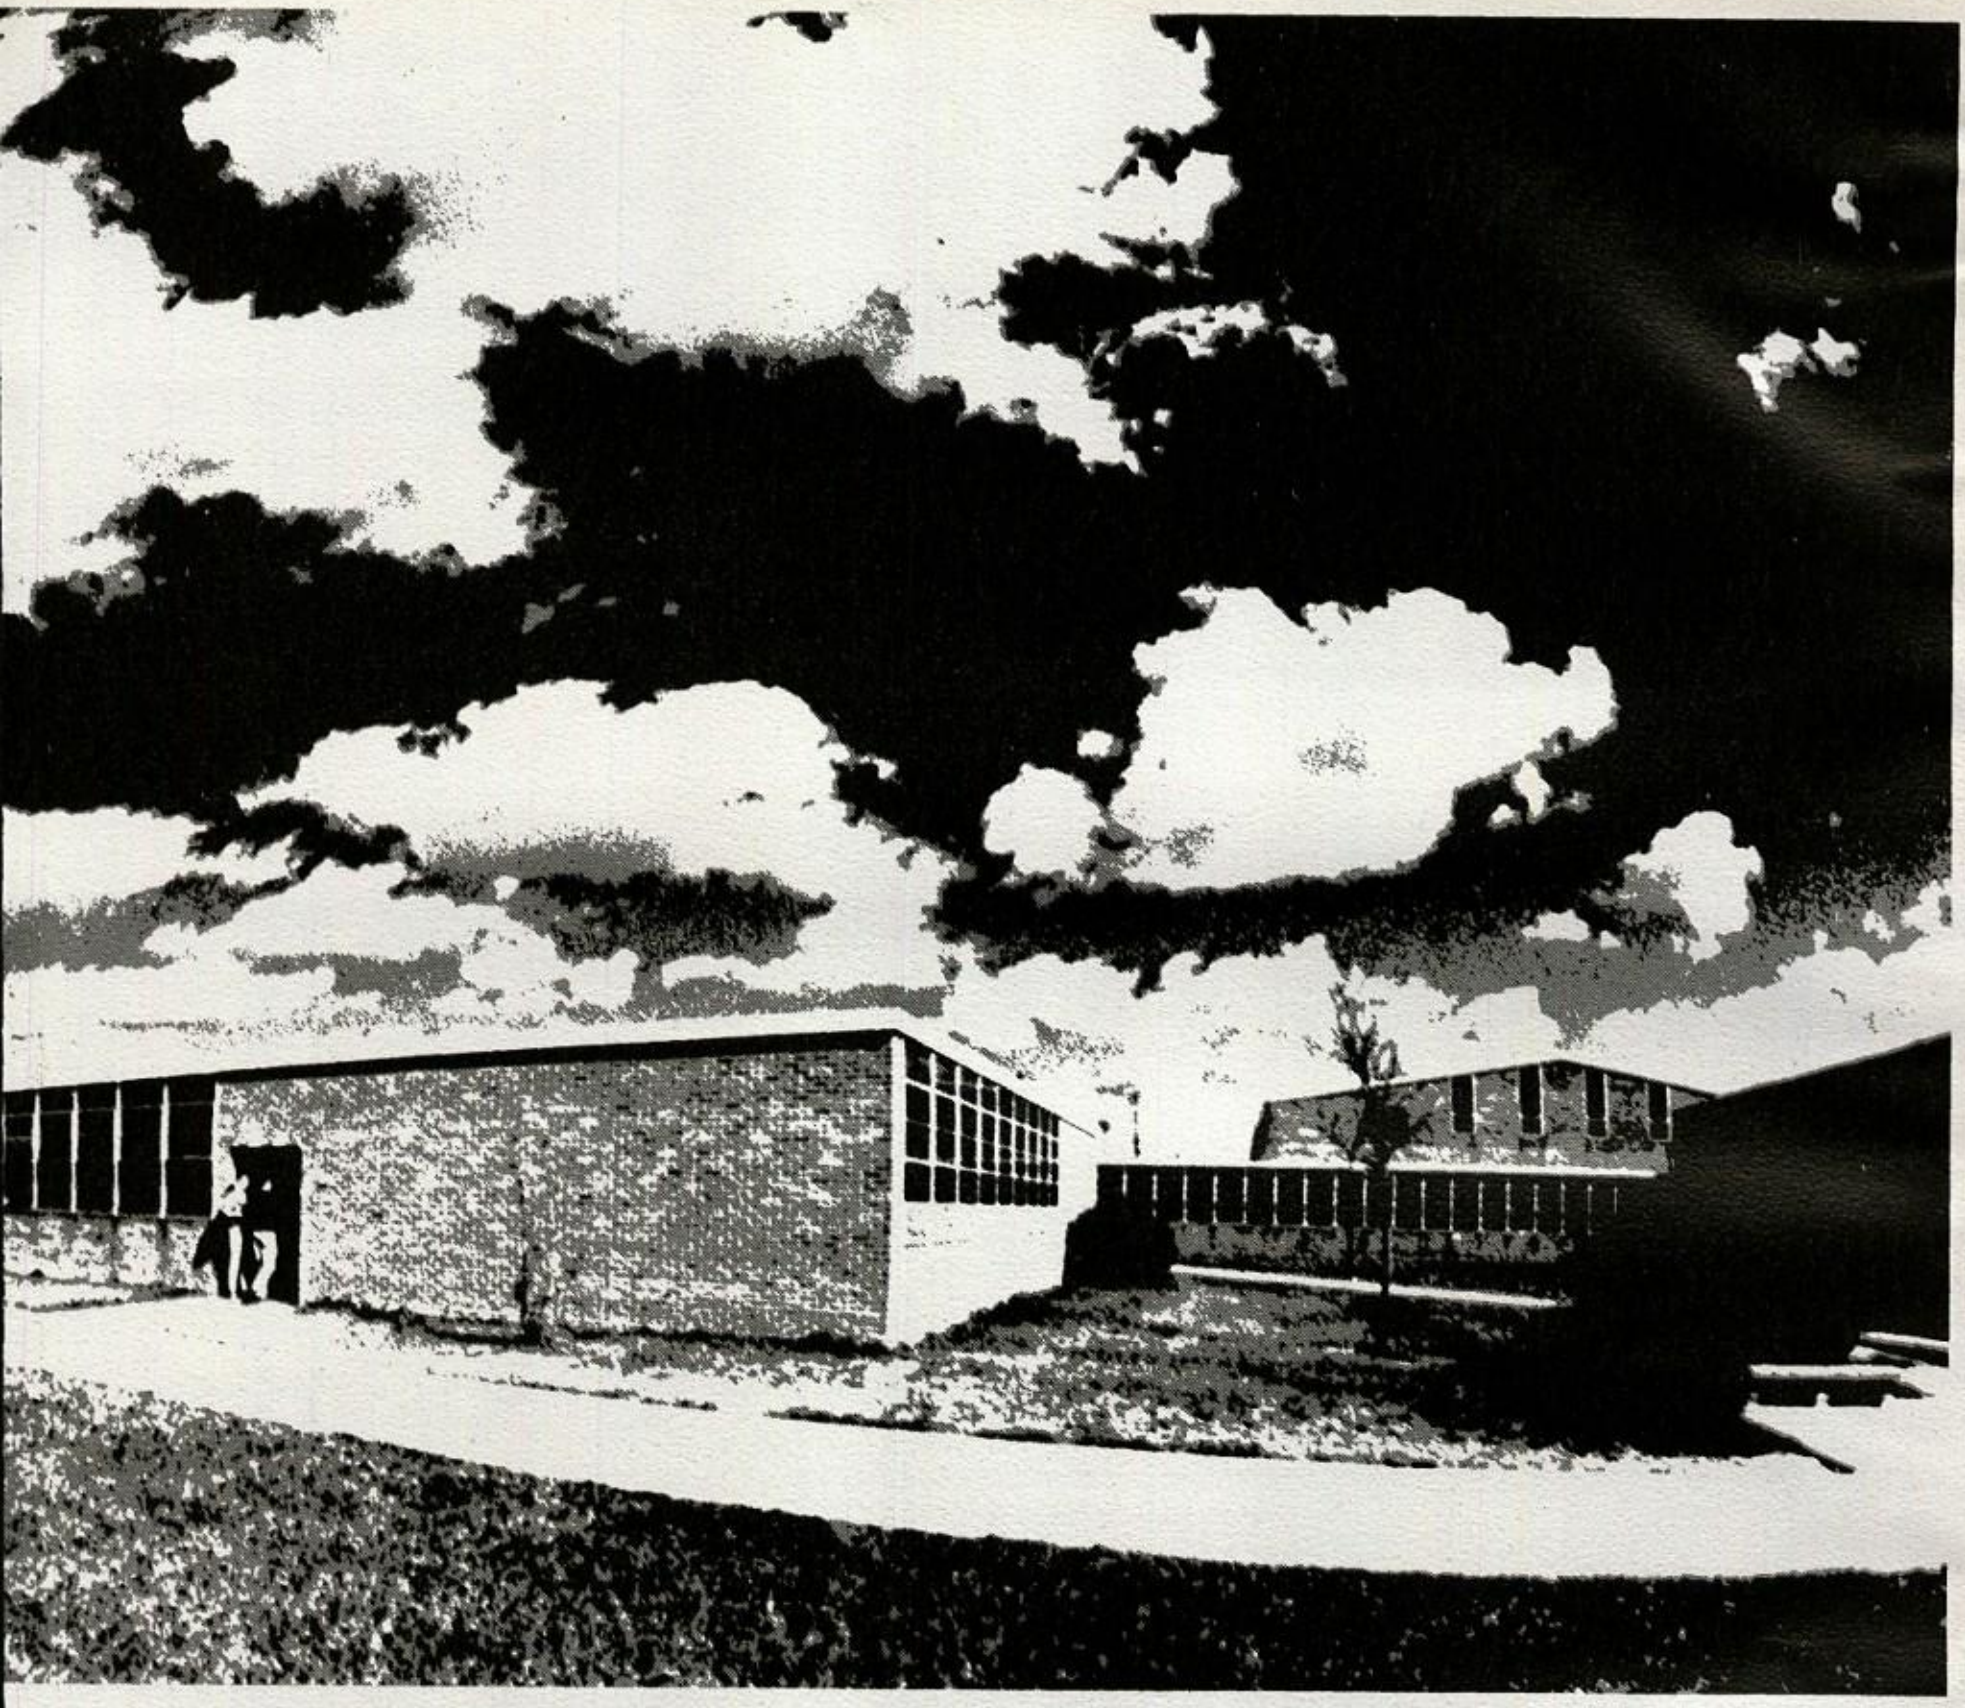
aspirations ablaze.

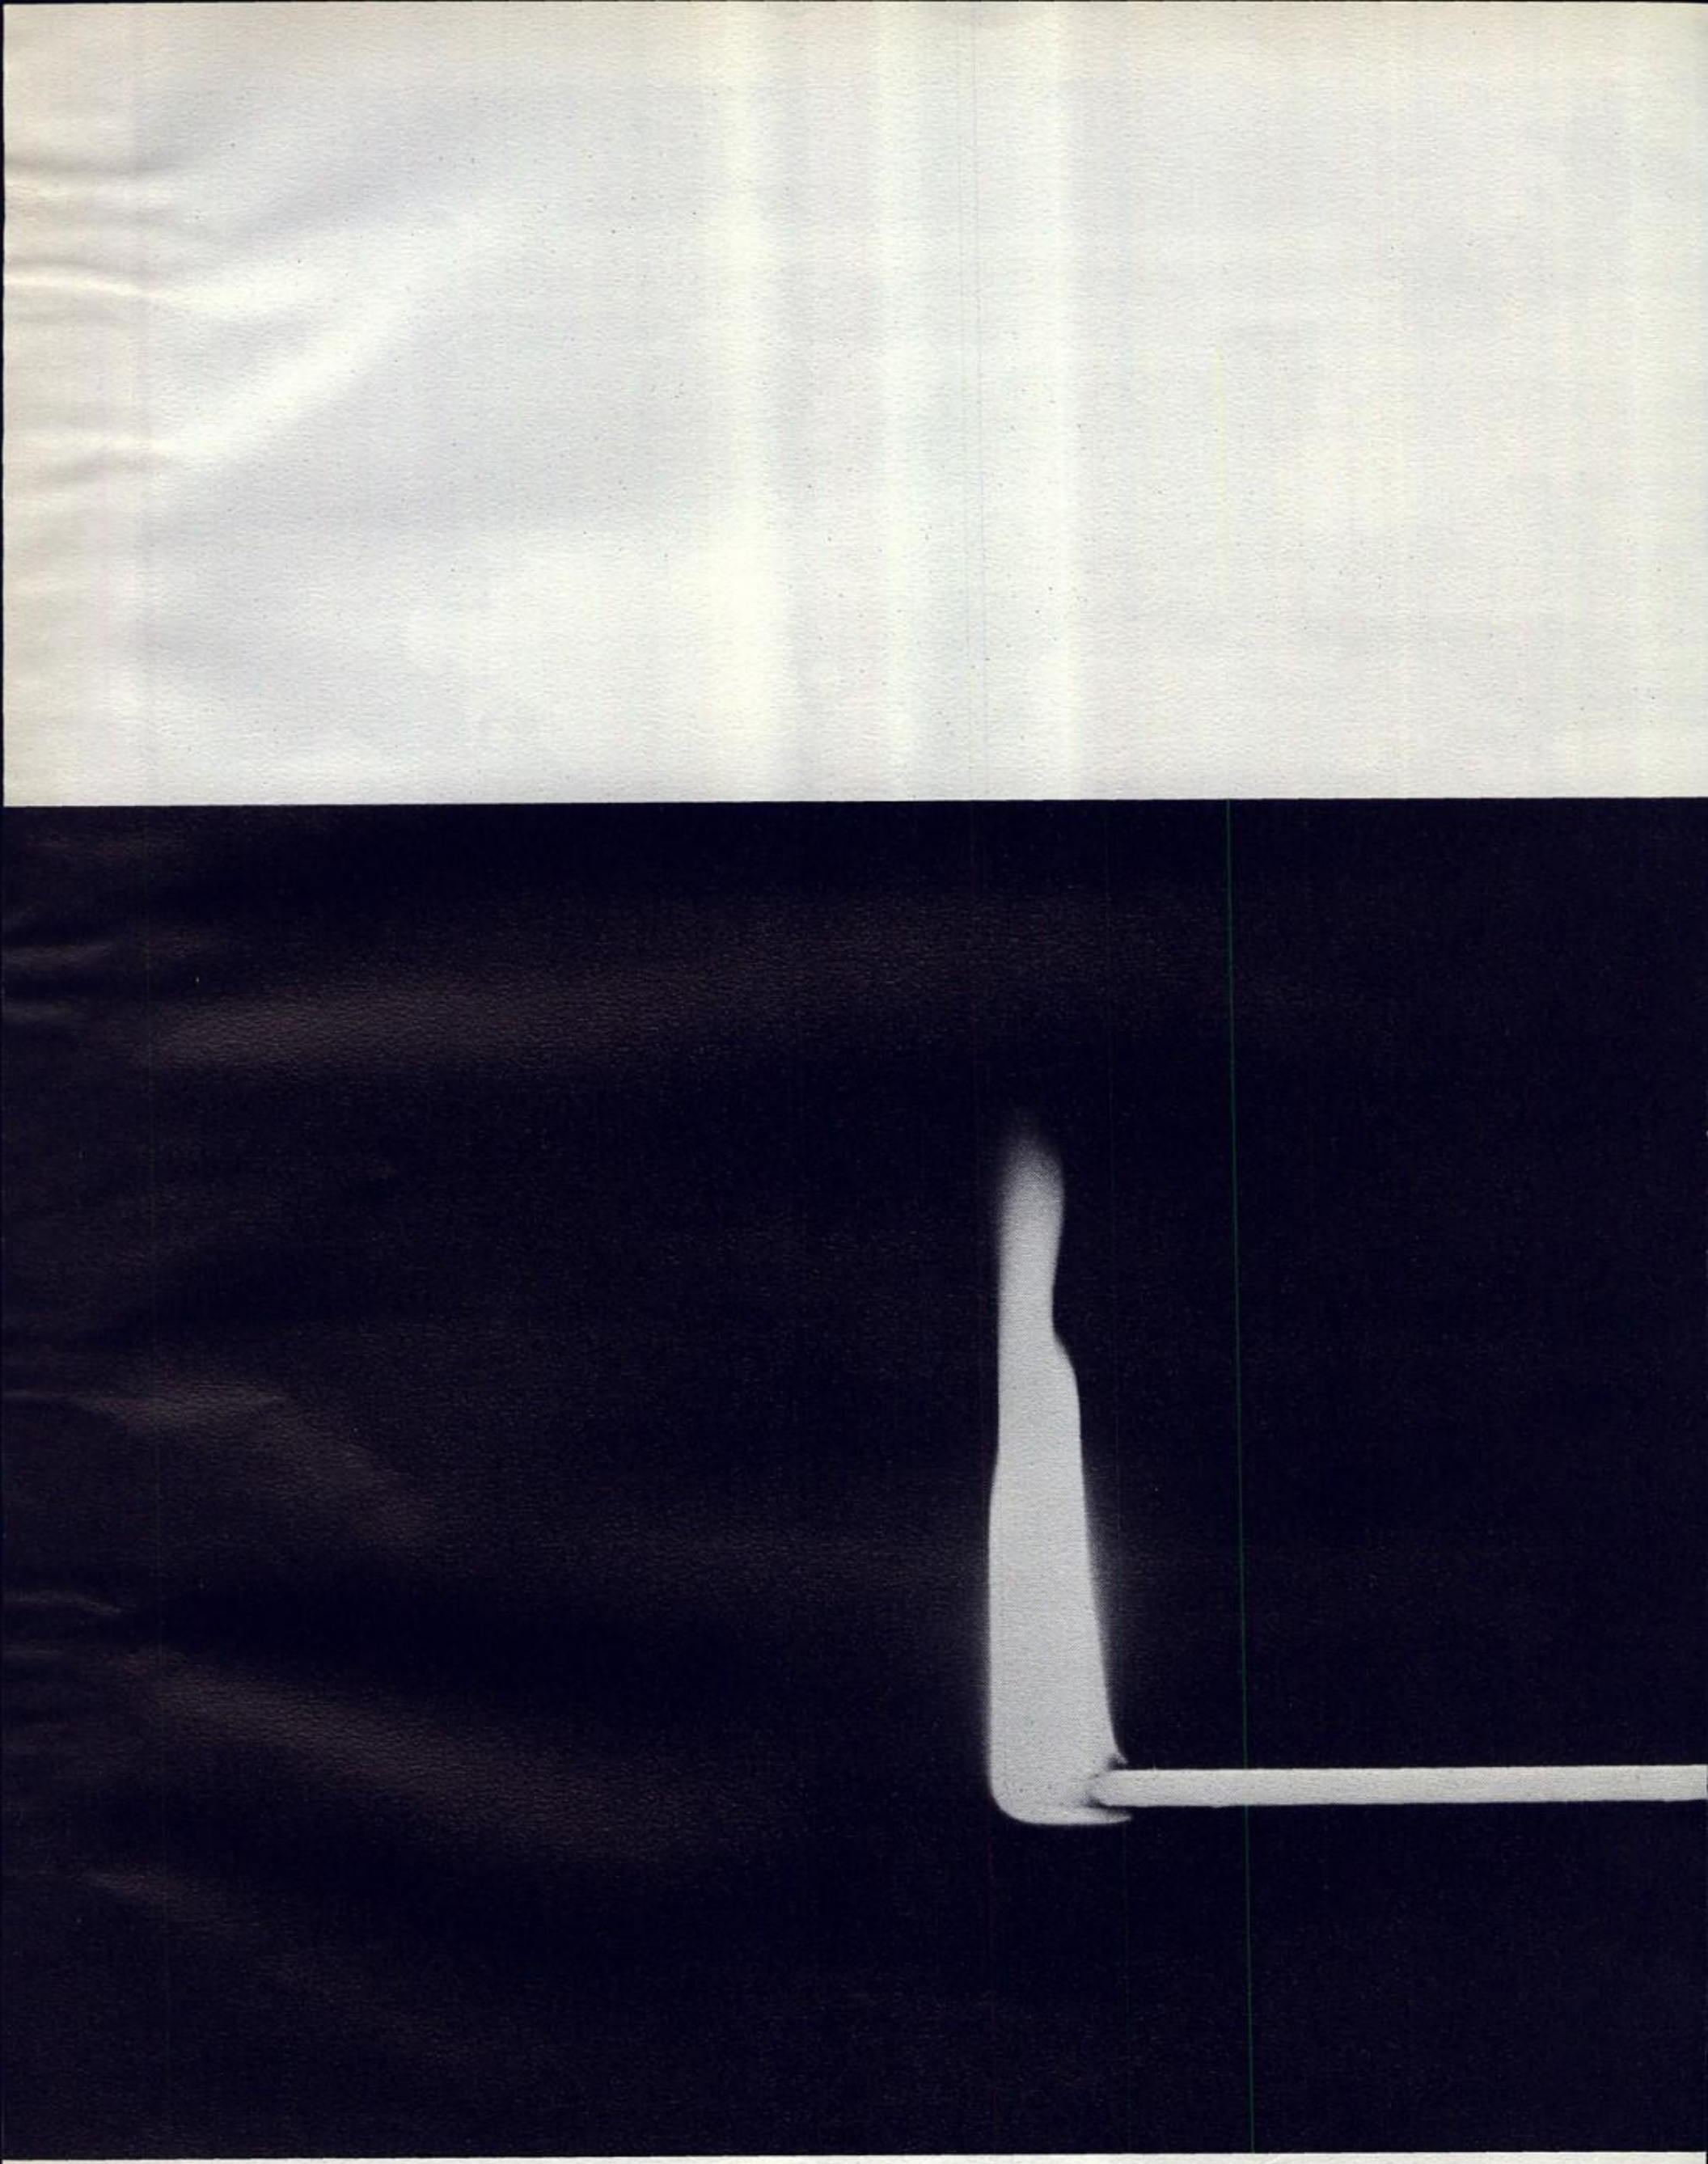


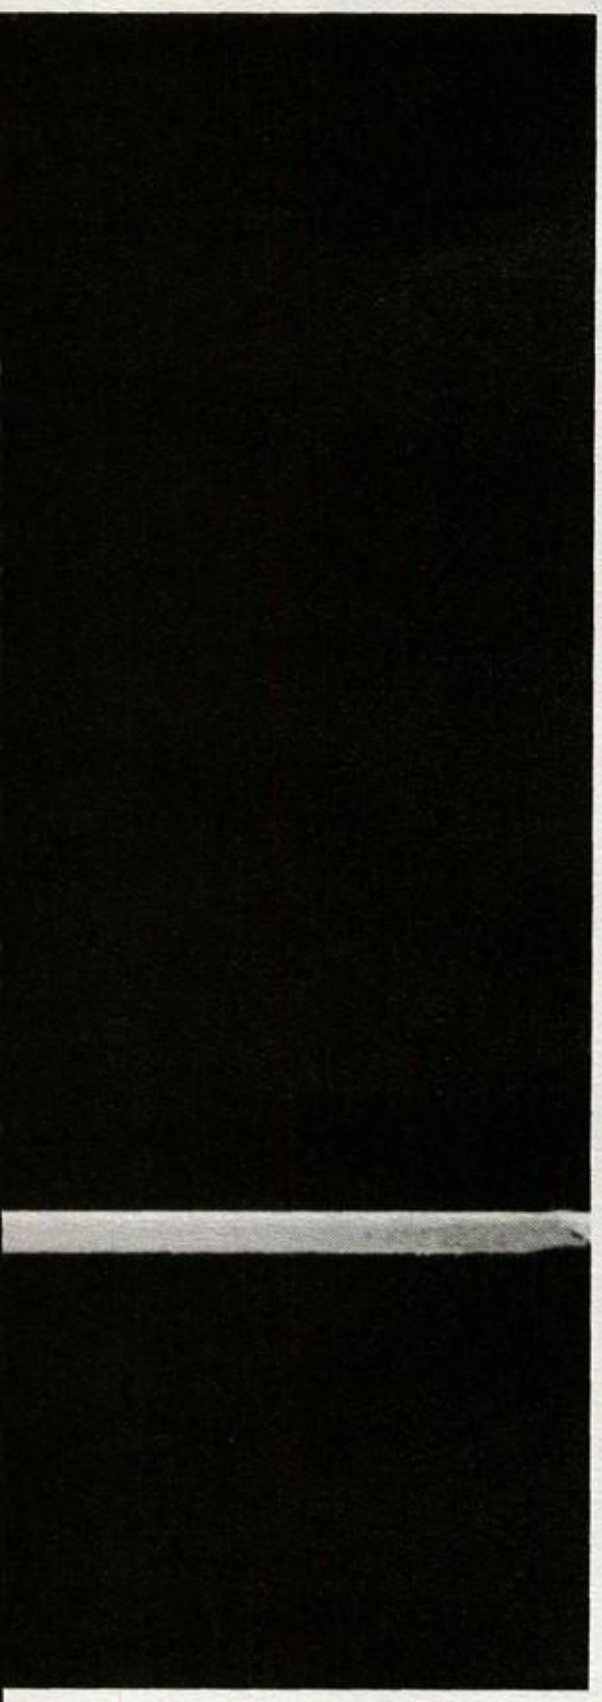


we come
whether anxious or hesitant
to learn.
our place of learning —
Frank W. Cox High School.
experiences form our future
lives.
here we
experience
in classes, in sports, and in
student life.









ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

the spark of ambition

the beginning

the reason and incentive

to instill

knowledge

to create and form

individuals

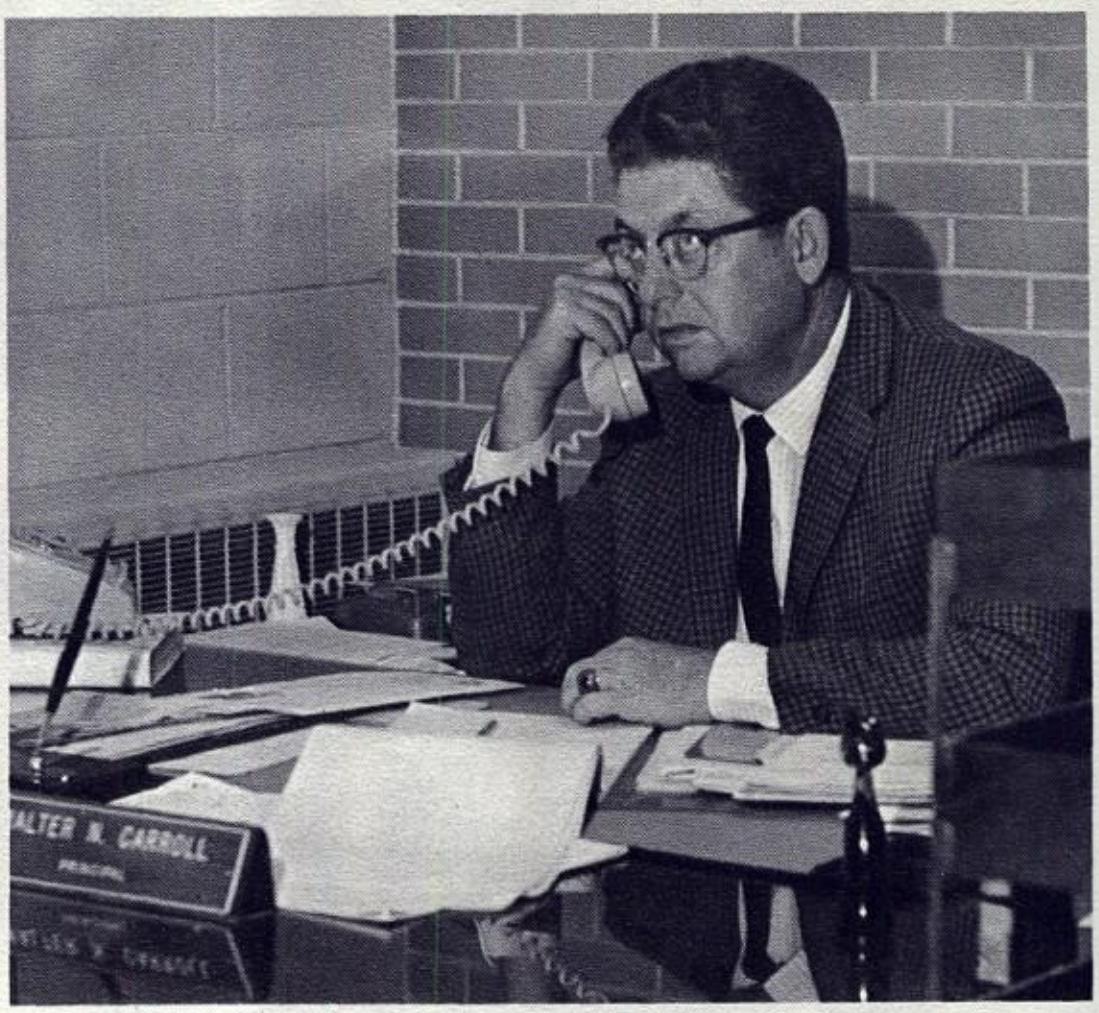
as examples and by

their experiences

the faculty.

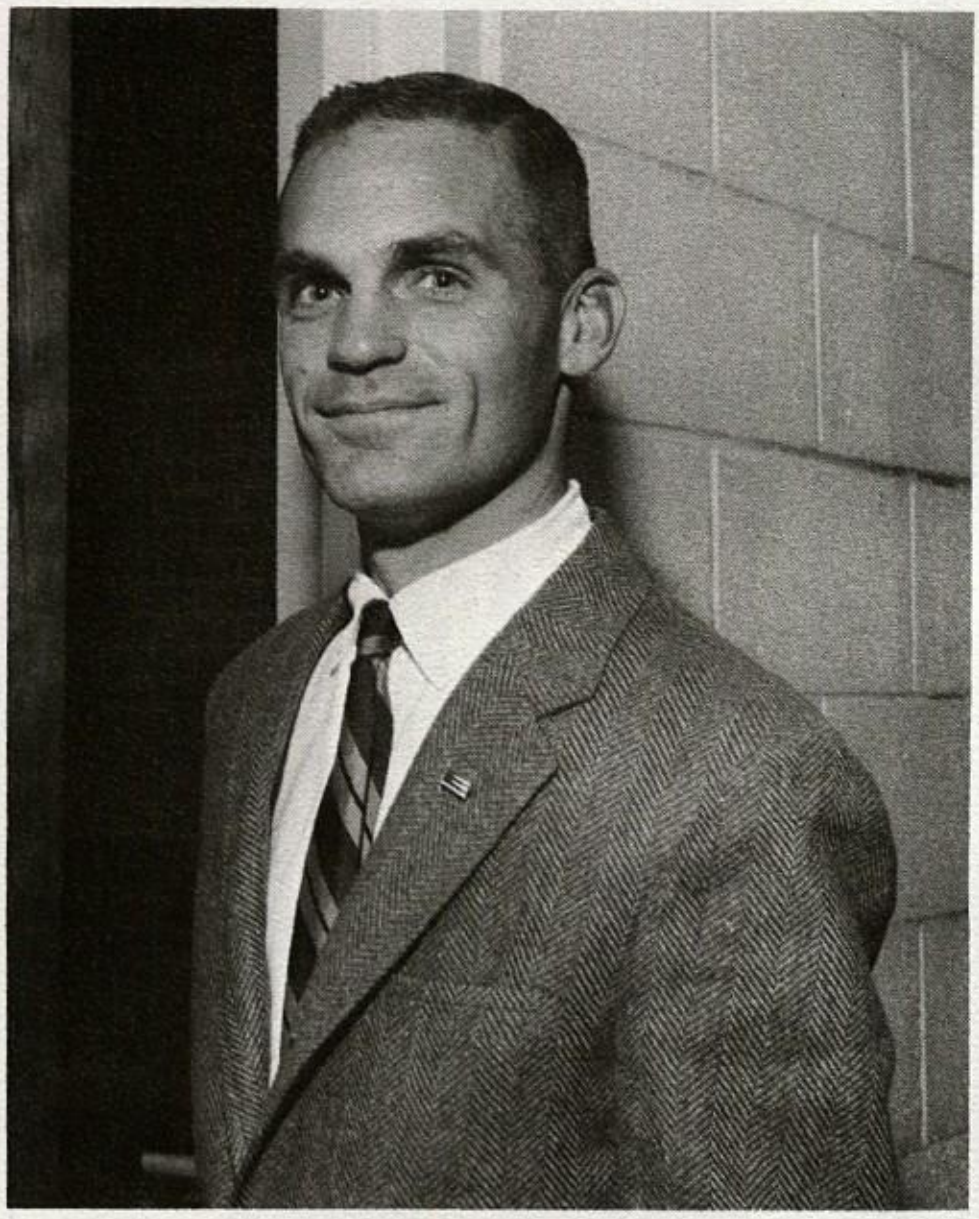
understanding through experience . . . a smile always ready for students . . . a genuine interest — in academics, social life, and athletic events . . . school pride . . . decisions, decisions, decisions . . . strength of convictions and character . . . admired and respected . . . qualified executive . . . our principal, Mr. Carroll.

Mr. Carroll, the principal, stands proudly in front of our school.



Dealing with parents is only one of Mr. Carroll's varied duties.

sly wit and humor . . . no funny stuff, though . . . announcements over the PA system . . . early departures seen before school . . . D. E. . . . the future golf champion of Cox ? . . . friendly to all . . . versatile . . . allows no excuses . . . assistant principal of administration.



Mr. French, Assistant Principal in charge of administration and discipline, is caught smiling as he leaves his office at the close of school.

THE ADMINISTRATION GUIDES FACULTY AND STUDENTS THROUGHOUT THE YEAR

kind and quiet yet firm . . . authority to discipline . . . scheduling with the guidance department . . . office off main office . . . ready to help . . . cheerful while business-like . . . demands the truth . . . assistant principal of curriculum.

Mr. Bulla, Assistant Principal in charge of instruction, searches through the files for a student's subject schedule.

Mr. "D." . . . human dynamo . . . planning, directing, and executing . . . includes everyone . . . activities, worries, responsibilities . . .desire to unite the student body . . . besides teaching English and Speech . . . chaperone at school functions . . . director of student activities.

MR. DEVINEY DOUBLES AS STUDENT ACTIVITIES DIRECTOR AND JV BASKETBALL COACH

clicking of typewriters . . . ringing of telephones . . . sign-in and sign-out . . . wait in the outer office, please . . . checks for various clubs . . . transcripts . . . files . . . balancing the books . . . busy, busy, busy . . . perpetual motion of ladies in the office.

Mr. Deviney, Director of Student Activities, speaks to parents at a Key Club banquet.

Mrs. Tayloe, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Seacrist, and Mrs. Grant (seated), the school secretaries, get ready for the long day ahead.

Mrs. Knight, guidance counselor for the Senior Class, advises a student.

our fire leaping to the apex of accomplishments.

four long years are almost over — remember the football games, parties, dances? — all the work has been worth it.

the double life of a final year.

let's exercise a few senior privileges! — where do you write for college applications? — you're supposed to wash the cars, not me. — please put ideas for the senior gift in the suggestion box in 301.

may I have one of your senior pictures? — all activities are free if you've paid your class dues — who should I ask to the prom? — how about me? — graduation announcements are here — Skin of Our Teeth is the senior class play — class sponsored a car wash, bottle drive, homecoming dance, Halloween dance — our sponsor's Miss Wade — golly! graduation is here!!!

this the crescendo of our fire.

energy, pep, spirit — characteristics of this year

yep — the "C" on the ticket box was painted by a junior — I can't wait to see the talent show — are you kidding? of course we have more spirit than the seniors!

the coming of responsibilities and hopes can you drive to college boards on Saturday? — think there's a chance to get picked for Boy's or Girl's State? — sure hope I did okay on those National Merit Scholarship tests!

the fire growing

what kind of ring did you order? — wait until next year — he asked me to the Ring Dance!! — sorry, I forgot to turn in the candy sale money — when are elections for next year?

a fire bursting forth.

beginning in a new school

it sure is different here — have you found your locker yet? — where's homeroom? — what's homeroom? — I think I'm lost!

getting acquainted with and accustomed to the atmosphere

I'm getting to like high school — you sure make a mess in this locker — oh no! late for homeroom again!

our fire needing a beginning class officers have been elected — did you work on the constitution for our class? — bet we beat the seniors in the magazine drive!

Porky,
It has been
a great pleasure
knowing you at this school year. I'm sure you will become a brilliant scholar
and an industrious leader.
Gee, shall we say, be good friends like up
and coming
school years too.
Sincerely
Stephanie

a yearbook — an annual —
the TALON.
to remember
the years of learning and friends, events and activities.
achievements and failures
through faculty and classes, clubs, sports, and
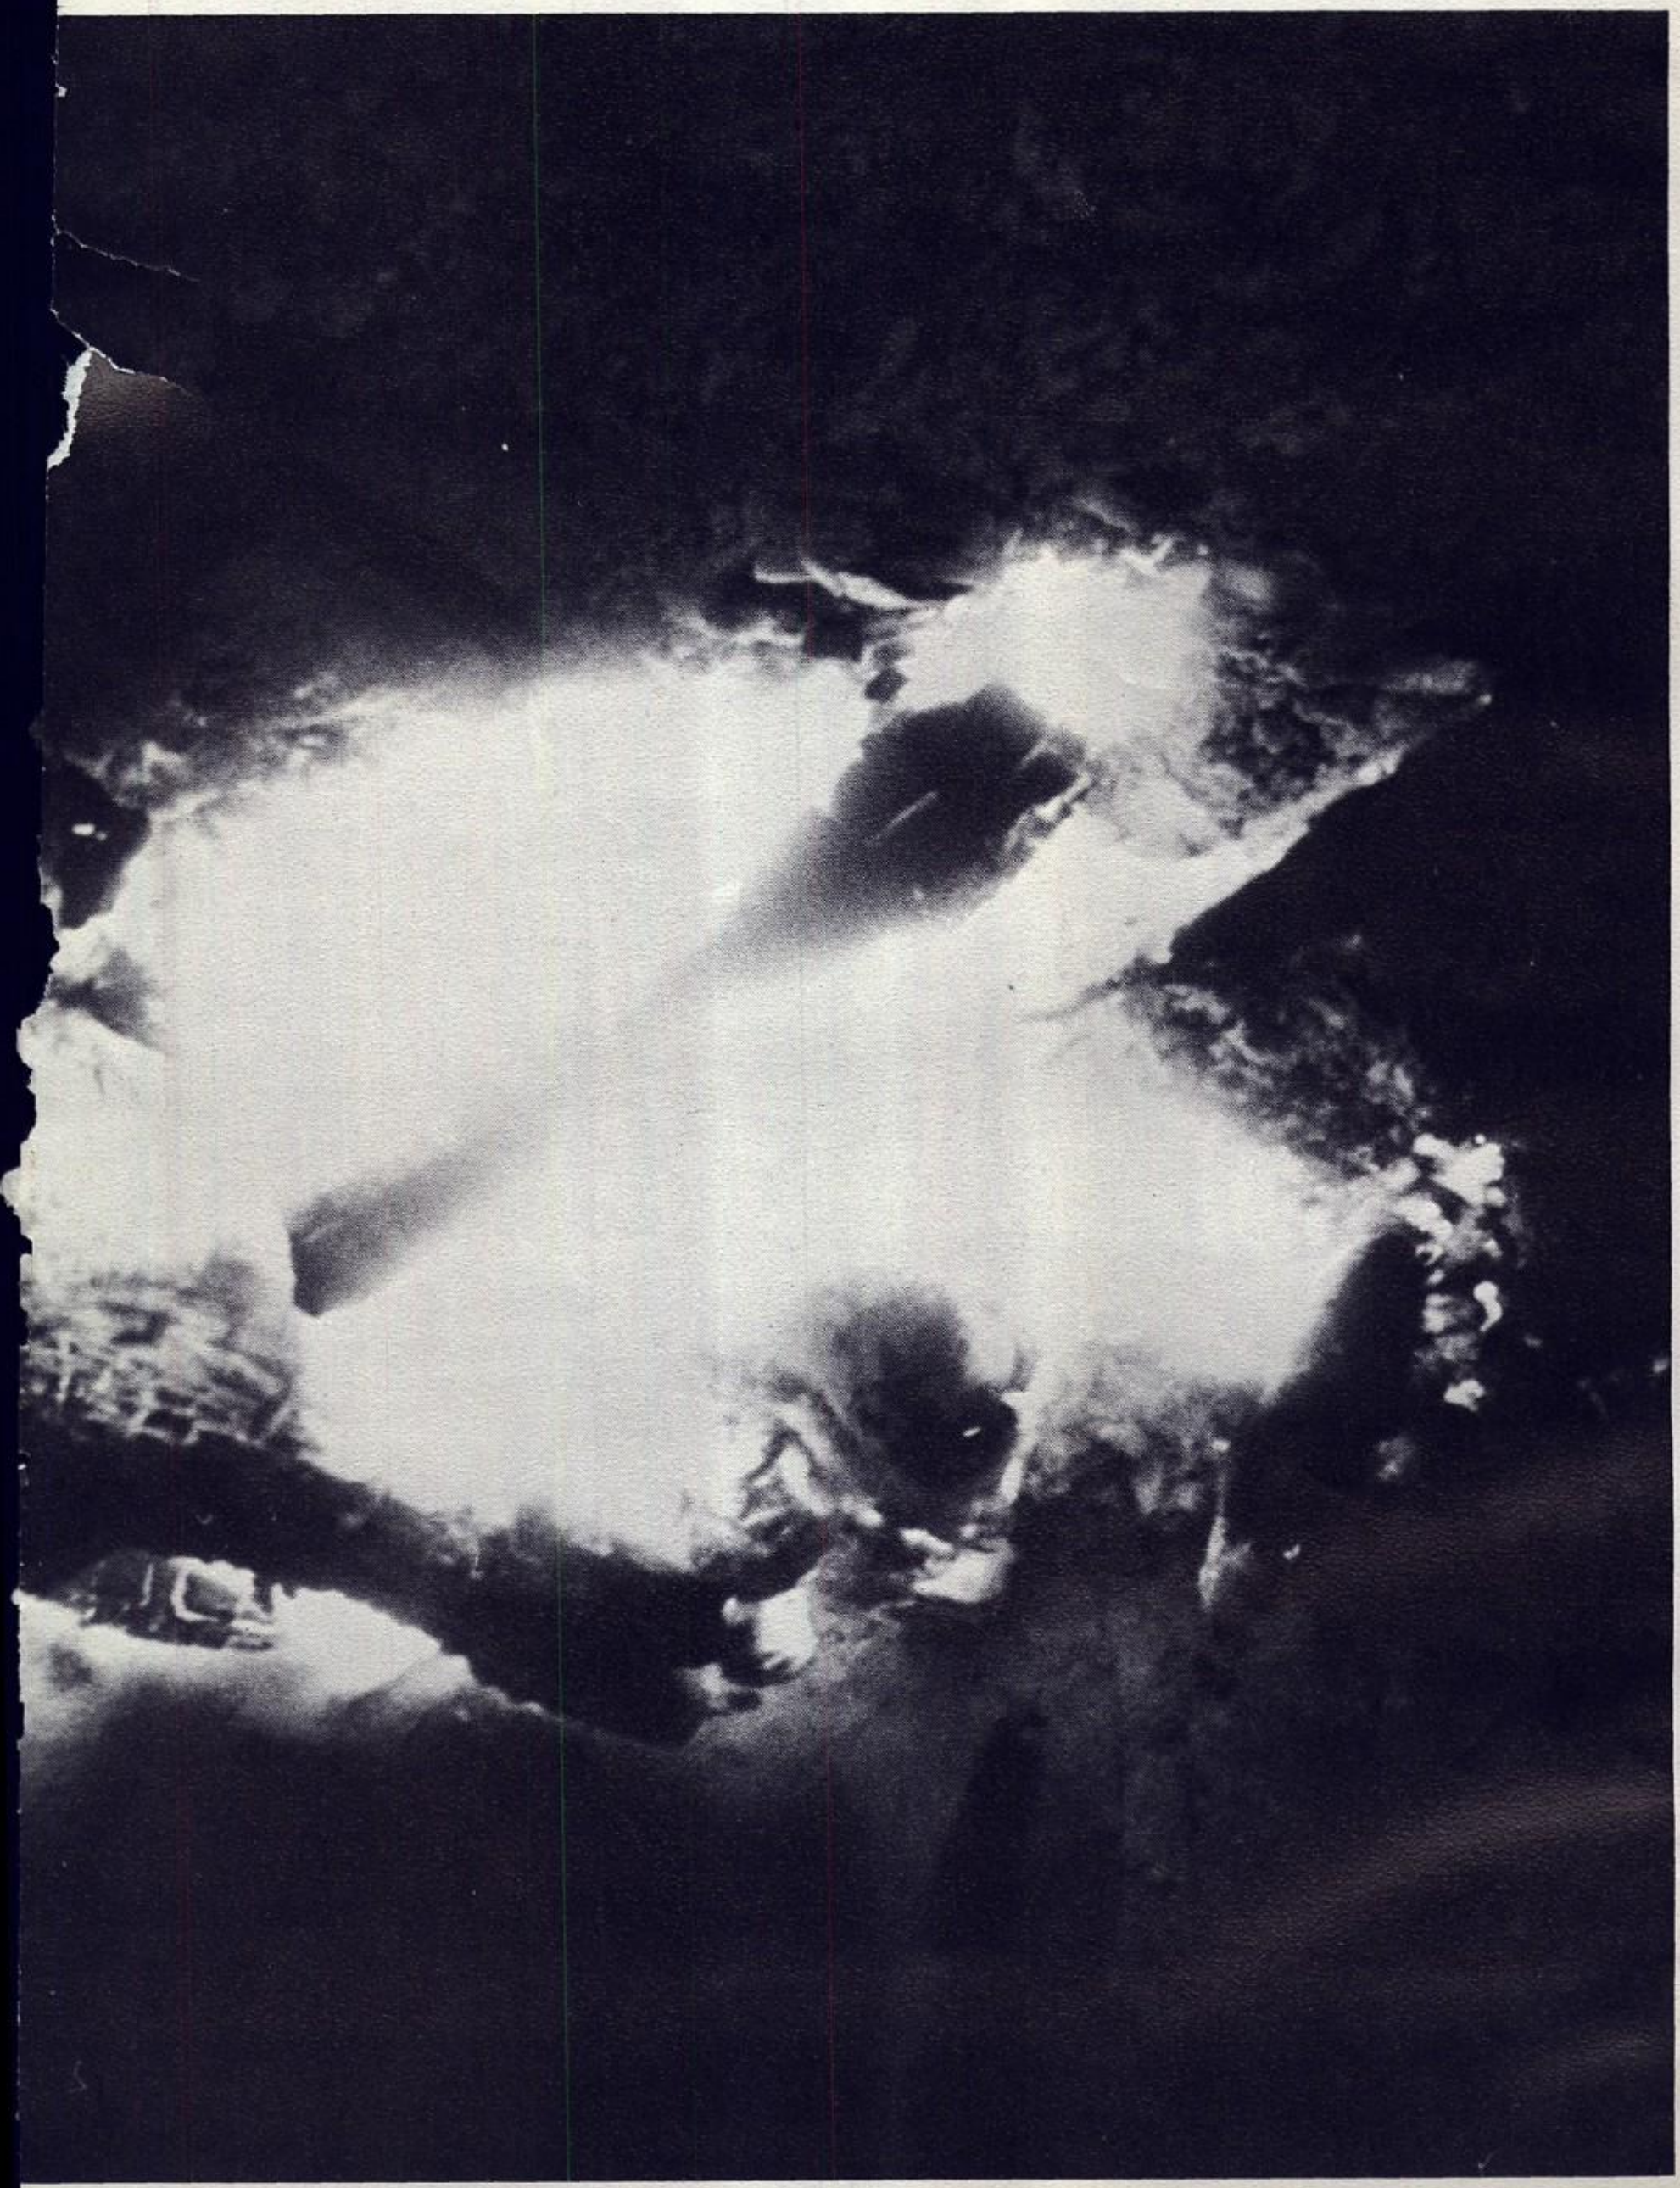
student life.
the '67 departure with hopes and
the future ahead.



the embers still glowing with
a promise.
to build a new, different, and totally unique
series of aspirations.
longing
to ignite a new fire.

We would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all those who made the 1967 Talon possible.

Thank you, Miss Lohr, for your understanding and patience when the vote was two to one.

Thank you, Becky Zenk, for writing and rewriting our copy and Larry Thatcher for the countless hours spent producing pictures asked for at a moment's notice.

Thank you, Staff, for your needed assistance and patience with us at our odd moments.

Thank you, administration and faculty, for your co-operation at all times.

Thank you, Mr. Perry for your inspiration and guidance and Mr. McIntosh, for your time and energy.

— Cathy Holland and Becky Taylor, Editors
